

GRAND PAVILION at WATER WORKS

AVAILABLE JULY & AUGUST

Water Works is a National Historic Landmark and one of Philadelphia's most iconic destinations, offering Cescaphe's signature wedding experience with breathtaking views of Boat House Row and the Center City skyline from its waterfront location at the foot of the Philadelphia Museum of Art.

BECOME PART OF HISTORY

A Water Works wedding immediately becomes part of Philadelphia history. The Fairmount Water Works occupies a unique position in the history of 19th century Philadelphia. As the nation's first public water system, the Water Works illustrated the romantic concepts of the era and was celebrated as a prime example of the blending of nature and technology. The century witnessed the extension of its surroundings into a glorious park and the introduction of even more efficient technology.

The Neoclassical architecture of the buildings, the landscaped gardens and the promenades up to and around the reservoirs on "Fair Mount," including ornamental sculptures, fountains and airy gazebos added to the visual pleasure of the site. For the general public, as well as for those with engineering or technical interests, the technological components at Fair Mount made the Water Works a unique wonder - the turning of the massive waterwheels, the action of the powerful pumps and the sparkling reservoirs containing the city's water supply.

In recent years the Water Works has been recognized as a national treasure by the federal government.
